AWS architecture diagram

This architecture shows how a secure serverless web application can be built on AWS. Users access the website through Route 53, AWS WAF, and CloudFront before reaching content stored in Amazon S3. API requests are processed by API Gateway and Lambda and application data is stored in S3. CloudWatch handles monitoring while SNS sends notifications. Security is managed through IAM permissions and S3 bucket policies.